Carroll History Project Seeks Memories for Older Americans Month

Westminster, Maryland (April 14, 2009) – The Community Media Center will set up its cameras at the Westminster, North Carroll and South Carroll Senior Centers on Tuesday, May 12 between 8:30 and 4:30 pm to collect oral histories for the Carroll County History Project. People with memories of the county are invited to include their oral histories in the Carroll County Remembers archive. Archived interviews will be added to the Carroll County History Project website and aired on cable channel 19, Carroll County’s public access channel. Sign up to be interviewed at any of Carroll County’s senior centers or through the History Project website at www.CarrollHistory.org.

The Carroll County History Project is a multi-year, multi-part initiative that includes a comprehensive history of the county as well as a permanent archive of personal memories from people who lived here or spent time here. Interviews are videotaped and stored in a permanent archive for future generations to use and enjoy. They will be made available online at www.CarrollHistory.org.
