Young Zombies Invade Community Media Center

Westminster, Maryland (September 29, 2009) – On Wednesday, September 30, 2009, students from the Carroll County Career and Technology Center’s Video Production class will be at the Community Media Center (CMC) transforming into zombies. The students will shoot and star in a public service announcement promoting the 3rd Annual Westminster Zombie Walk, just in time for Halloween.

CMC intern Colin Rhodes, a 19 year old freshman at Carroll Community College and a self-styled special effects makeup artist, will be preparing the students for their roles as the living dead.

“John Pellegrini is an awesome instructor,” said Rhodes, “he asked me to come back this year and I told him I’d help out however he needed me.”

The PSA will spotlight the Zombie Walk and its canned food drive to benefit Carroll County Food Sunday. The event will be held in Westminster on October 11, 2009 at 1 pm at the 140 Village Shopping Center. The walk leaves the shopping center at 2 pm and ends at the Carroll Arts Center for a special FREE screening of “Night of the Living Dead” sponsored by the Westminster Barber Shop.
